EXPLANATION

ENTRY NUMBER (first column). Documents are referred to by entry numbers in the index to this Check List. Entry numbers do not appear on the documents and should not be used in citations.

LANGUAGE OF ISSUE (second column). The language editions in which a document is issued are indicated as English (E), French (F), Russian (R), Spanish (S), Chinese (C), or bilingual English-French (E&F) texts.

DOCUMENT SYMBOL AND SHORT TITLE (third column). The official document symbol number is at the beginning of each entry. This number should be used in citing documents. In the case of publications without document symbol numbers, titles should be cited together with the session number, issue number, supplement number, and volume number, whichever is included in the entry. Title entries have been standardized and shortened or expanded in order to clarify the meaning of the titles and the authorship of the documents, so the entries do not always conform literally to the actual documentary titles. The collation shows the pagination of the English or bilingual English-French text only. The date appearing on each document below the document symbol number is usually the date of registration of the documentary text with the Bureau of Documents for publications and translation and should be the same in all language texts. The date of registration closes each entry. Corrigenda and revisions are usually grouped with the parent documents in the same entry. Corrigenda are corrections of errors in the text, title, date and classification of documents, emendations of the translation, and additions of omitted text. Addenda include supplementary material, such as annexes, tables, and other additional communications. Revisions are texts revised through formal amendment, or new editions prepared by the submitting delegation or by the Secretariat.

REPUBLICATION NOTES indicate the republication of whole documents in other documents or in the Official Records. In the case of resolutions only their republication in collected sets is indicated, in the case of draft resolutions no attempt is made to note the inclusion of their texts in the verbatim records of meetings.

RESTRICTED Documents of "restricted distribution" are indicated in this Check List by a black dot (•) before the symbol.

INTRODUCTORY NOTES give a short parliamentary history of the Commission and describe briefly each Committee session by session, including the date of its appointment, citing its terms of reference, naming its members and officers, listing its reports and document series symbol (if any), and tabulating its meeting records. The plenary meetings are shown in tables for each session. The tables indicate both published and unpublished meeting records and related press releases. Since drafts for the published meeting records should be deposited as a matter of course in the Archives of the United Nations, the tables under the heading "Archives" show only the unpublished manuscript records deposited in the Archives ("TPW"; "TSR") and the sound recordings ("X").

Establishment and Composition of the Transport and Communications Commission

The Transport and Communications Commission was established as a permanent Commission by Economic and Social Council Resolution 2/7, adopted 21 June 1946, according to a suggestion made in the report of the Temporary Transport and Communications Commission. Terms of reference: In document E/270, entry 58. The Commission consists of one representative from each of fifteen Members of the United Nations selected by the Council. Except for the initial period, the term of office is three years. For the initial period one-third of the members were elected to serve for two years, one-third for three years, and one-third for four years. Accordingly, the Economic and Social Council at its 46th plenary meeting, 2 October 1946, elected the following fifteen nominating States: Brazil, India, the Netherlands, Poland, and the United Kingdom to serve for two years; Chile, China, France, and Norway to serve for three years; Czechoslovakia, Egypt, the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, the United States of America, and Yugoslavia to serve for four years. With a view to securing a balanced representation in the various fields covered by the Commission, the Secretary-General of the United Nations was instructed to consult with the Governments so selected before the representatives were finally nominated by these Governments. The nominations by the Member States have to be confirmed finally by the Council. Accordingly, the Council in a special meeting, 10 December 1946, confirmed ten nominations submitted by the Secretary-General (documents E/250 and E/292). The Council decided at this meeting with regard to the five remaining Countries from which nominations had not been received that members nominated might serve provisionally pending their confirmation by the Council at its next session. Subsequent nominations by Chile, Egypt, France, Poland, the Union of South Africa, and a replacement by China were confirmed by the Council sitting as a Committee of the Whole on 26 March 1947. (See documents E/263 and E/263/Add.1, E/263/Add.2 and E/378/Rev.1.)

At its 202nd meeting on 17 August 1948, the Council filled the vacancies caused by the expiration of the term of office of the one-third of the membership initially elected for two years, by re-electing India, the Netherlands, Poland, and the United Kingdom and electing Venezuela in place of Brazil for a term of three years. The members nominated and re-nominated by the elected Countries were confirmed by the Council at its 272nd meeting on 11 March 1949. See document E/1308.

At its 315th meeting on 1 August 1949, the Council replaced one-third of the members whose terms of office were to expire by the end of 1949, re-electing Chile, China, France, Norway, and the Union of South Africa for a term of three years (1950-1952). See document E/1508.
